Trojan OneCard & Refunds

How are refunds sent back to the student? There are several ways for this to occur; however, having your refund applied to your Trojan OneCard makes the process very simple and convenient.

The Trojan OneCard is issued to new students when they register for classes in their first term at TROY.

Once the student receives his/her Trojan OneCard, the student must go to TrojanOneCard.com to activate their choice of refund delivery methods. The student should activate their choice within two business days.

A student may choose one of the following refund delivery methods:

1. Debit Card OneAccount (Easy Refund)
2. Direct deposit to a bank account of the student's choosing

The Debit Card OneAccount (Trojan OneCard activated as a debit card) is tied to a fully functioning FDIC insured checking account. There is no credit check to open this account. The student may use the debit card anywhere the MasterCard Debit Card is honored. To avoid paying debit fees; choose credit after you swipe your card, and sign.

Students admitted to candidacy in a graduate program requiring a comprehensive examination must pass the required comprehensive examination, written and/or oral, covering the work taken in the major field. All students must register in advance for comprehensive examinations. Students should consult with eTROY regarding procedures for scheduling and taking comprehensive examinations. This examination is usually taken during the last semester/term prior to graduation.

The passing of the comprehensive exam is not to be considered a waiver of any other requirement for any program. Students who have unsuccessfully attempted the comprehensive exam may not change their program of study.

Should students fail the comprehensive exam, they must successfully retake the exam within one year of the date originally taken.

Procedures

1. Choose a proctor that meets the guidelines set by our proctor policy.
2. Submit your choice using the online Comp Exam Proctor Form at <http://trojan.troy.edu/etroy/testing/comprehensiveexam.html>.
3. eTROY staff will review your proctor's information and your academic records.
4. If your proctor cannot be approved, you will be notified to locate another one and submit a new form.
5. If your records reveal that you have met the requirements necessary before attempting the Comp Exam, you will be sent a study guide and the testing window dates for the exam which are also posted on the Academic Calendar. The Comp Exam is always given the second week of the term.
6. About a week prior to the testing window, eTROY staff will send your Comp Exam to your proctor and you will receive an email notifying you that your exam has been sent.
7. You will then need to contact your proctor to confirm receipt of the exam information and to schedule an exam appointment during the specified testing window.

Note: You will not be contacted by eTROY immediately after submitting the Comp Exam Proctor form. You can expect to receive the study guide and dates or a message from us within 7-10 days. There is a $50 Comp Exam fee posted to your account. The comp fee will not be posted immediately. Usually it will be posted to your account within a month. .

Proctor Options

- Approved third-party testing center
- Troy site
- Military Education Office

Nutrition Minor

Troy University offers a nutrition minor program through the Department of Kinesiology and Health Promotion. A minor in nutrition is an excellent complement to many academic majors including Exercise Science, Hospitality Sport & Tourism, Biology, Chemistry, Human Services, Social Work, Nursing, Psychology, and pre-health professions programs. Nutrition courses provide academic preparation for certification programs such as personal trainer or diabetic educator. Students may also take nutrition courses as electives. All courses are offered conveniently online and will not interfere with course schedules. The minor may be completed in one year. Troy University has partnerships with other universities to accept all courses in the nutrition minor for transfer to undergraduate and graduate programs in nutrition and dietetics.

BIG CHANGE BEGINNING TERM 1eTROY and Global Campus welcomes Barnes and Nobles as the textbook Provider

Beginning in Term 1, 2015, we will start using Barnes and Nobles as our textbook provider for the courses delivered through eTROY and the Global Campus sites within the United States. With this, there will come a few changes for the students.

1. Students will no longer need a book voucher to access their financial aid to pay for their books.
2. Students will use this website to order their textbook: <http://troy.bncollege.com>. Also, through this website you can order Trojan apparel, supplies, and gifts.
3. Students will see links to the B&N bookstore in Blackboard and Trojan Web Express
4. Another benefit will be for those students who take classes on one of the Alabama campuses and online. This will allow those students to purchase their textbooks from the same bookstore/website.

Location Change for Proctored Testing

The Columbus location will no longer offer test proctoring. Proctoring previously conducted at the Columbus location will now be conducted at the new Riverfront Campus located at 1510 3rd Avenue, Phenix City, Alabama 36867
Proctoring at the Ft. Benning Test Center will continue as usual at 9230 Marne Road, Ft. Benning, GA 31905.

Getting Started

Online education gives you the opportunity to advance your learning without having to come to the Troy campus. The online courses are conducted entirely through the Internet, allowing you to receive assignments, submit coursework, and interact with your professor and other students via your computer. The courses are primarily asynchronous, which means you don't have to be at your computer at the same time as others. You will spend much of your time reading and responding by sending messages within the on-line classroom environment.

Advising

Once you are admitted to a Troy University online degree program you receive by email your administrative counselor and faculty advisor name for a graduate program and your professional counselor name for an undergraduate program. If you are unsure of who your advising staff is please call toll-free at 800-414-5756 or email at ask@troy.edu. Please be sure to have your student id number and your home location.
